

The Military.

INDEPENDENT NATIONAL GUARD.—This splendid military corps had a grand dress parade on Monday, which surpassed even their former magnificent displays. The Guard mustered fifty-nine musketeers under command of Captain J. R. Moore, Lieutenants Eli Cook, W. H. Lackman, W. H. McMillan, and W. M. Johns, making with Surgeon R. B. Cole, sixty-five uniforms. They were accompanied by the American Brass Band which is certainly composed of the most accomplished musicians on this coast, who discoursed the most delightful street music it has been our lot to listen to in this city. The parade lasted the entire afternoon. The new regulation of the "musical Guard" looked admirable, and here we must congratulate the Guard upon their strength, for few companies would have the courage to detach six of their men from the body of the company, and place them in an isolated position. We missed the noble and familiar form of our old friend, Corporal Martin, from the right, and as this is the first, we hope it may be the last parade from which he is absent.

At eight o'clock in the evening, the Guard sat down to an elegant collation at their Army.—Among their many guests, we noticed the President of the California Pioneer, Alex. G. Abel, Esq., Major, of the First Light Dragoons, and many other distinguished military gentlemen, who are always fortunate enough to be complimented on such occasions. Captain Moore presided in his usual happy manner, and every thing passed off, as it always does, when the Guard give an entertainment, to the great satisfaction of every one present.

CALIFORNIA FUSILIERS.—The California Fusiliers Capt. Sidenstricker, paraded with full ranks on the 22d inst., "Washington's Birthday." They were accompanied by the California band which being dressed in the same uniform as the company, added greatly to the strength and appearance of the corps. The Fusiliers are composed of some of our most respectable German citizens, and deserve great credit for the speed, thorough, and quiet manner in which their organization has been perfected. Scarcely a whisper had been heard of their preliminary organization, before they appeared on parade, uniformed and well disciplined; it would be for future projects of military organizations in this city, to pursue the same course of conduct in their incipency.

A grand ball was given by the Fusiliers at Turner Hall in the evening, which was well attended. Delegations were present from the various military companies and the utmost courtesy was shown to all.

MILITARY IN COLOMBA.—We learn that the Coloma Greys, Captain Van Guilder, number at this time over thirty men. They turned out to celebrate the 22d, and made a fine appearance.

From Our Boston Correspondent.

Boston, Jan. 19th, 1858.
Editor Fremont's Journal.—I had hardly disposed my last communication in the Post Office, on the afternoon of the 3d of January, when the fire bells sounded two alarms for a large fire then raging in a block of wooden buildings, occupied by Messrs. P. Langmaid, sail and blind dealer, Cutter & Parker, do, McDonnell & Co., Buffum & Co., and—Fleming, liquor dealers, and also by painters, second-hand furniture dealers, carpenters, etc., situated on Charleston, Cooper, Stillman street, and Stillman Place. Before the fire could be got under nearly the whole block was destroyed, and but for the persevering efforts of the Boston department, aided by four companies from Charlestown and one from Chelsea, the fire would have been much more destructive. The whole loss about $14,000. The fire was set by an Irish boy named Jeremiah Donovan, nine years of age, who was arrested the same afternoon. He will probably be sent to the State Reform School during his minority.

The newly elected Mayor, Frederic W. Lincoln, had nothing to say in his inaugural address, concerning the fire department.
